

- How would you distinguish between the following pairs of molecules by means of a simple chemical test? In each case, indicate what reagent would be added and any physical change observed. Write an equation for any reaction that occurs. Specify if no reaction occurs by writing "N.R."

