- The rate constant of a polymer cross-linking reaction was established as a function of temperature. How can we demonstrate that the kinetics of this reaction follow Arrhenius behaviour? If it does follow Arrhenius behaviour, how can we derive the activation energy for the reaction and the pre-exponential factor A?