

- Molecules with multiple resonance structures are said to be “resonance stabilised”. Briefly explain the origin of this extra stability in terms of electron waves and molecular orbitals.

2