

2

- Determine the value of n that corresponds to the lowest excited state of He^+ from which radiation with a wavelength of 600 nm is able to ionise the electron (i.e. excite it to a state of $n = \infty$). Show all working.

Answer: